Photography Competition 'Climate Goals'

Images of Adaptation to Climate Change in the Mountains

Mountains cover 30% of the earth's surface and are essential for vital resources and ecosystem services. However, they face increasing challenges due to climate change.

Participate in the photo competition organised by UNIMONT, the Alpine hub of the University of Milan, by sending comunicazione.montagna@unimi.it your shots before 15th September 2024 to document climate change adaptation in mountain territories.

The award ceremony for the best images will take place on 25th September as part of 'Action for Climate' organised by the RUS - Rete delle Università per lo Sviluppo Sostenibile.
